Why Bangkok to host the next SVRI Forum?

Lower travel costs, easier visa access, and a central location for the Asia-Pacific region. Bangkok enables researchers, practitioners, and advocates from low- and middle-income countries to be at the centre of the conversation.

Visa and entry regulations

Visa on arrival:

Many nationalities qualify for a 30-day visa-free on arrival, or shorter exemption periods.

→ Check your status online at the Thai e-Visa website.

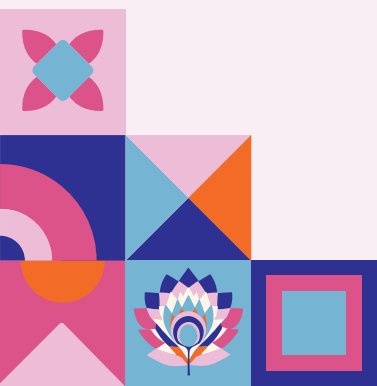

Know your airport:

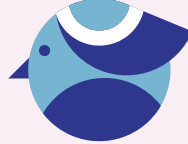

- Long-haul flights: Suvarnabhumi Airport (BKK);
- Regional low-cost carriers: Don Mueang Airport (DMK).

Mandatory digital card:

Complete the free Thailand Digital Arrival Card (TDAC) 3 days before your arrival.

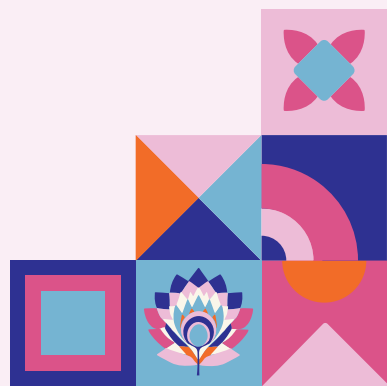

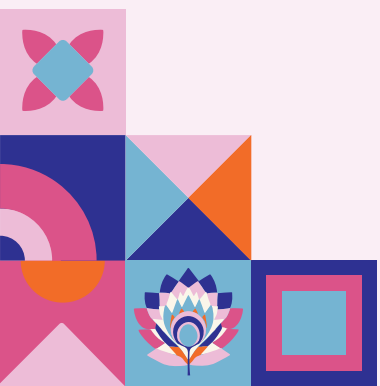

→ Check that your passport is valid for more than 6 months.

 The Forum will be hosted at the Centara Grand Hotel and Bangkok Convention Centre.

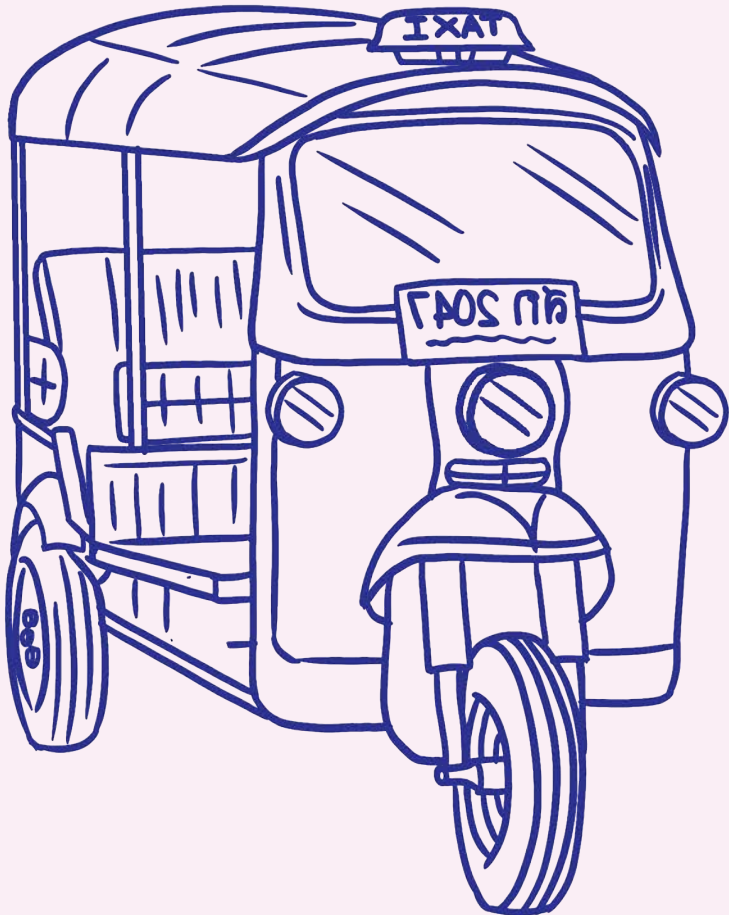

A well-connected venue in the heart of Bangkok, with excellent conference facilities and easy access to the city's transport links, restaurants, and amenities.

Exploring Bangkok

One place not to miss:

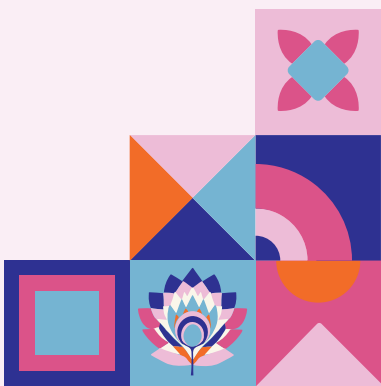

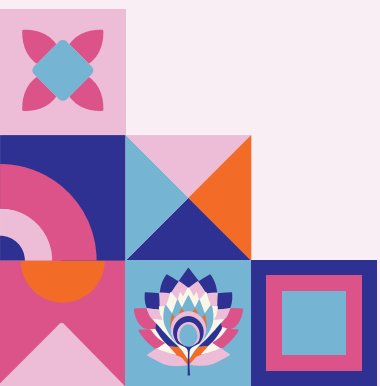

The Grand Palace and Wat Phra Kaew — a dazzling royal complex housing the Emerald Buddha, Thailand's most sacred image.

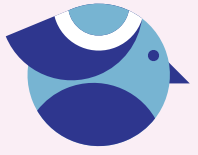

One feminist stop we recommend:

The Bangkok Art and Culture Centre (BACC) frequently exhibits the work of feminist collectives and artists. Worth a visit.

Getting around:

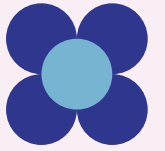

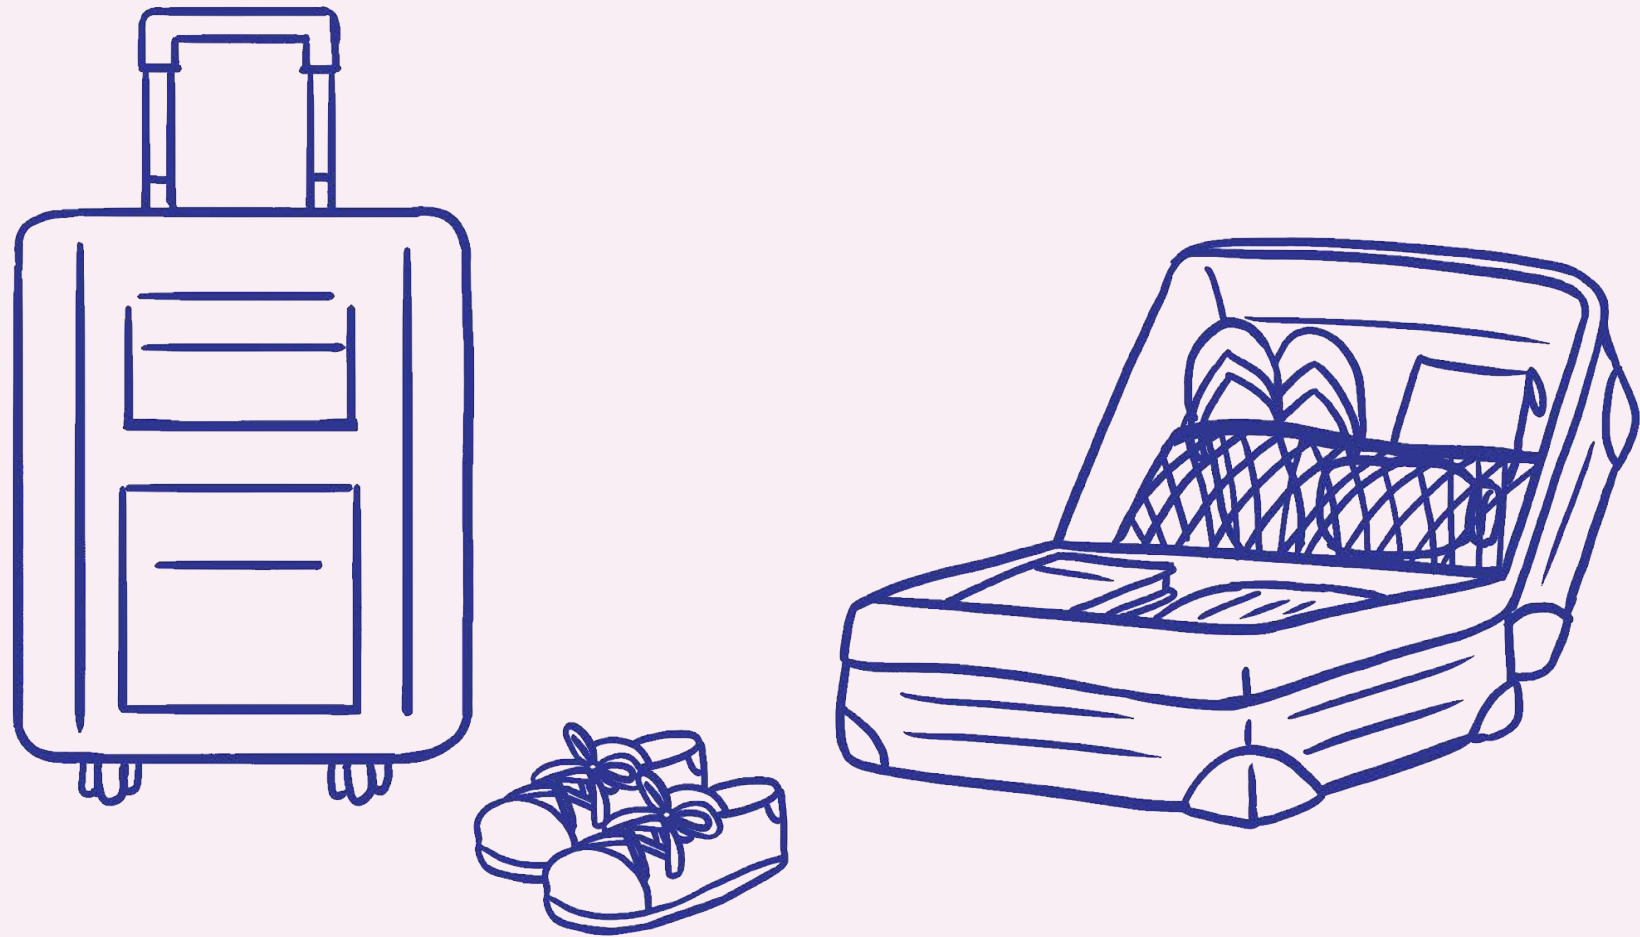

Use the BTS Skytrain, MRT subway, tuk-tuks, Chao Phraya express boats or download Grab for easy ride-hailing across the city.

What to pack?

Some final tips before flying!

Currency:

Thai Baht (THB). 1 USD $\approx$ 35 THB

Language:

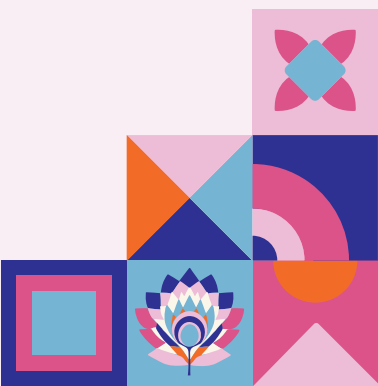

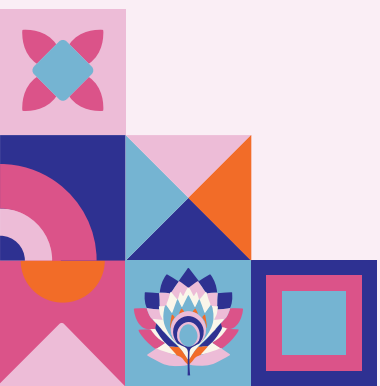

Central Thai, but most people know English.

Temperature:

24°C-32°C with high humidity and occasional afternoon showers.

Packing essentials:

Bring lightweight clothing, a compact umbrella or raincoat, mosquito repellent, and modest attire for temple visits.

We can't wait to welcome you in Bangkok, Thailand!
